Happy Holidays from Kijabe, Kenya

Greetings from the Tillys. Term 1 of this school year has ended, and we are praising God for supplying the strength we need and for making this an enjoyable time for us.

We both have taken on new responsibilities this year. Meredith has been teaching 3 classes, IGCSE Math and Science (IGCSE is the British based curriculum) as well as sixth grade science. David has been teaching the elementary computer classes. Along with these, we continue to perform our duties in the dorm and in the computer lab. So you see, it has been a busy term.

There have been many wonderful activities to remember as we look back. Here's a short list: Titchie Field Day, with its many games and good fun; soccer every Tuesday and Thursday; an outing to Hell's Gate, a gorge with many animals, hot and cold springs, steam vents, hiking and climbing; Titchie concerts; many hikes into the forest; an ice cream social; multicultural day; Pinewood

Praise:

1. God continues to provide for our needs.
2. We have a little R&R time to spend with our family including David's mom and brother, and Meredith's mom who have come out to see us.
3. The kids are doing well in school and love it here.
4. Our children are excited about outreach opportunities in the area. Elizabeth wants to go to an unreached people group when she grows up.

Prayer:

1. Strength as we enter term two with all of our responsibilities.
2. Our financial support as we return in July to begin a year of deputation.
3. Each of our dorm kids by name, as they face occasional bouts of homesickness.
4. Our dorm kids' parents as they attack the heart of darkness.

Derby; and outreach into the community.

We have also spent many good evenings in the dorm having devotions with the girls. We have read stories about Mary Slessor and Amy Carmichael, read from the book of Luke, and listened to Adventures in Odyssey.

Most of all, though, we are pleased to continue our ministry of enabling missionaries to do their work by caring for their children. Allow us to share some tidbits about each of our dorm kids.

Sigrid: sixth grade. She is quiet, yet loves to laugh. Even though she is Kenyan, she understands our American sense of humor. Her parents are missionaries to the unreached people of northern Kenya.

Jacquie: sixth grade. She is spunky and intelligent, and very mature for her age. Her parents are church planters in Mozambique.

Alanna: sixth grade. She is extremely energetic and quite the tomboy, growing up in the remote bush. Her parents are missionaries to the unreached people of northern Kenya.

Sarah: sixth grade. Native of Burundi and adopted by Americans, she is fun-loving, and happy at RVA. Her parents work with AIDS orphans and widows.

Lizzie: fifth grade. Native of Burundi and sister of Sarah, she easily makes friends, and loves to laugh.

Hannah: fifth grade. She is intelligent, and fun to talk to. Her parents are the directors of TIMO, the organization within AIM that sends teams of missionaries into unreached people groups.

Zuri: fifth grade. She is a very social person and quite talkative. Native Korean, her parents are missionaries in Tanzania.

Grace: fifth grade. She is very quiet and stable and never complains about anything. She is also Korean, and her parents are starting a theological college in Uganda.

Senewa: fifth grade. She is intelligent and loves to talk, and is native Kenyan. Her parents are missionaries to the Masai.

We want to thank all of you for all of the prayers and support that you continue to give towards our ministry here.
